

Input on Faculty Governance

Last academic year, the Academic Council created the ad hoc committee on faculty governance "to survey systematically faculty opinion on the state of faculty governance at Notre Dame; outline and clarify current mechanisms of faculty governance; establish criteria to determine those issues that fall under the purview of faculty governance; ascertain whether there are any areas of disagreement between senior administrators and faculty members on the role of the faculty governance; and, based upon all its findings, offer recommendations for enhancing faculty governance. "

The members of the committee were elected by the faculty and are as follows:

Phil Bess, Architecture • Sunny Boyd, Science • Judith Fox, SPF(chair) • Rick Garnett, Law • Nasir Giaseddin, MCOB • Martin Haenggi, Engineering • Matthew Leevy, Research Faculty • Valerie Sayers, Arts and Letters • Cheryl Smith, Hesburgh Libraries

The committee is interested in your opinions and/or suggestions regarding the state of faculty governance at Notre Dame. We have created several opportunities to allow for your comments.

First, you may make anonymous comments through this LINK.

We have arranged for 3 information gathering meetings early in the coming semester.

January 17, 10 am in McKenna Hall rooms 100-104

January 25, 3 pm in McKenna Hall rooms 210-214

January 27, 12:00 noon in McKenna Hall, rooms 210-214

Please join us to share your thoughts.